NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER
HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive
Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.
He respectfully refers to the following
CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. R. Hoagland we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used

It fastens without bolt or screw and is therefore easily and speedily separated It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure

It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent heretofore considered the best in use

SATURDAY MORNING DECEMBER 11 1869

An Important Controversy Terminated

In Iowa an instructive case touching the liabilities of certain counties which had pledged their aid to insure the construction of railroads has recently come to a termination. It was settled through the intervention of the United States Courts and a brief history of the case and the principles on which it was decided may be of interest to Oregon readers, since there are analogous instances here of lending the credit of counties to railroad enterprises. In the Iowa case there was threatened a serious conflict on the question of National and State sovereignty—a conflict which once might have led to serious results but happily since the battle of the rebellion was fought the national idea has gained so much of supremacy in the minds of the people that the exploded notions of State sovereignty can never assume their ancient arrogance.

After the railroads in Iowa were built the counties contested the liability they had assumed on the ground of a provision in the Constitution of the State, similar to that in the Constitution of Oregon which declares that neither the credit of the State nor of any county, in it shall be loaned for any purpose, beyond a limited amount. The courts of the State sustained the counties in their refusal to pay the liabilities, but the United States Courts, being appealed to by non resident claimants, held that the counties were liable and that they must perform what they had agreed to do. But some of the counties still refused to discharge their obligations, and in order to sustain them in their refusal the State Courts issued injunctions to prohibit the levying of taxes to meet the same. The claimants then applied to the United States Courts to compel the county officials, by mandamus, to levy the taxes, and though the power to issue this writ was at first denied, yet the Supreme Court of the United States held that the mandamus must issue. It was issued accordingly, but still the county authorities refused to obey it. The next step was to procure the issue of attachments out of the United States Courts to punish them for contempt. To meet this new danger the State Courts were again appealed to to protect the county authorities. But the State Courts thought it advisable not to continue the contest further, since it was assuming a shape which would soon and inevitably lead to serious results. The county officials were therefore brought before the United States District Court and instructed to levy the taxes, which they promised to do. Before the Judge discharged them from custody he embraced the opportunity to give them some sound advice pertinent to the occasion. He told them that there was no hope of escape from payment, while the amount due was every day increasing, that the Supreme Court of the State had virtually abandoned the conflict, that there was no "branch of the State government which has either the disposition or the power to resist the execution of the lawful process of the United States Courts," while "the Government of the Union must sustain its Courts with its whole force and power." He desired them, "and all other men, to realize how groundless has been the assertion and the hope that the executive arm of the Government would not be extended to aid and sustain the Courts of the Union in this controversy." And having thus shown the Supervisors that they were "left in the power of the United States Courts," he added that the attachments against them would be continued in force till the next term on their promise to levy the taxes in question. He further admonished them that that promise "must be performed in good faith, and without any unnecessary delay," and that this grace would not be renewed, but "any delinquency in the future would be visited by the Court with penalties of such a character as to insure obedience to the mandate of the law."

Here was an inchoate rebellion, which attempted to take shelter under State authority. Serious consequences were avoided by the declination of the State Courts to dispute further the sovereignty of the United States. What might have been the result of such a controversy as this before the late rebellion, wherein the authority and sovereignty of the United States were so triumphantly vindicated, no one can say, but it is certain that the national idea now has so strong a hold on the people that any doctrine which resembles the old theory of State sovereignty, will have little chance to make itself heard.

In General.

It is a well established fact that the California railroad disaster was caused by the inability of a switchman to read his time table; yet Mr. Cohen, a railroad manager, in the course of his testimony regarding the accident, said that not one half the switchmen on the Western road could read or write. Encouraging, very, to travellers over that road.

The Herald says that Senator Williams's bill to prohibit the importation of Chinese into the United States won't do, the Democracy demand a law which shall entirely shut these people out of the country. Then why didn't the Democracy enact such a law when they controlled the Government, and when the Chinese were coming to America in greater numbers than now? There is as little sense as consistency in the position now taken by the Democratic organs here on this subject.

An Eastern paper says that since Dr Livingstone's recent discoveries have been announced, the Nile must be classed as the longest river in the world. It debouches into the Mediterranean in latitude 32 deg north, rising (according to Livingstone) in 12 deg south. Its general course is north, but it has as many and as eccentric windings as either the Amazon or Mississippi. By straight measurement from the point of departure to the point of debouchment, it is over 1,000 miles and by allowing in the same proportion for curvatures as we allow for the other two great rivers, the Nile would be 6,000 miles long.

Lorenzo Sawyer nominated by the President for United States Circuit Judge for the Circuit embracing the Pacific States has been for several years a Justice of the Supreme Court of California where his term of office has just expired. He was a candidate for re election to that position in October last but was defeated, which was a lucky circumstance for him, as it has undoubtedly led to his present promotion. He is regarded as a jurist of considerable ability and is held in high regard in California. While it would have been much more agreeable news to Oregonians to hear that Judge Deady had received this appointment it must be admitted by all that the appointment of Judge Sawyer is a very respectable one.

MISCELLANEOUS

The Halifax Chronicle says: Day by day the ideas of those who look upon independence as the quick coming fate of this Dominion, and upon annexation as the sure result of independence, receive sufficient confirmation to encourage such persons not only in holding such ideas, but in expressing them.

An old man in Canterbury, Ct., seventy-five years of age, died recently and was buried in a suit of clothes which he procured when a young man and had worn constantly as a Sunday suit for more than half a century. He has been married four times, and in each of those occasions wore the same suit.

Three interesting fossils have recently been found in the township of Seymour, Canada. The first is apparently a petrified human head, which shows the tongue, eye balls and muscles of the face, the head having the reddish brown appearance of an ore of iron. The other relics are the foot and leg of a young girl about ten years old and a section of meat from the side of an ox, showing three ribs.

In Mr. Reverdy Johnson's letter to the Earl of Clarendon, of March 25, 1869, he thus writes: "My Government believes, as I am now advised, that it has a claim of its own upon Her Majesty's Government because of the consequences resulting from the premature recognition of the Confederates during our late war." That is the view which has been consistently maintained by the Government and approved by the people. Have those who demand the recognition of Cuban independence ever applied it to their own case? Have they ever considered how the proposed recognition would affect the position which we have taken with regard to England?

Judge Dent's path in Mississippi prior to the election, was not exactly covered with flowers, unless it be flowers of rhetoric, of which this will serve as a sample from the Jackson Pilot. Dent having "posted" its editor as a calumniator, the scribe responds: "After completing a review of Louis Dent's character we made the following legitimate deductions: He is a cheat and swindle, as his transactions in Coahoma county show. He is a political impostor, without character, brains or honesty. He is a published blackleg, falsifier and villain. His record, public and private, is steeped in infamy, loaded with crime and blackened in sin, fraud and corruption. In short, he is a knave, coward and scoundrel."

A brilliant correspondent is writing a continued allegory of the late trans continental progress of the Colfax party. In this story, the Vice President is known as "Oratory" and his lady as "The Mimic." Sam Bowles is "The Cynic," his lady "Mater Dolorosa." There is one mystery who is called "Diana," but it is a mystery that Governor Bross has no name. Perhaps language failed to yield a synonym for the lusty Governor. Nevada, we are glad to know, is "a young and free-limbed State,"—but we are sorry to hear that her people are "prosaic and divine Bofonios," with a general tendency to three-card monte and some incomprehensible substance called "whisky straight." The courtesies of the railway and stage men are so frequently "acknowledged" that we presume the party traveled free of expense. This economical advantage is called "exuberant friendliness," which is a much neater phrase than "dead heading" or "running your face," and more suitable to an officer so distinguished as the Vice President.

According to the New York Herald, Professor Boynton is beginning to think, from experiments he has made in the action of water upon gypsum, that the Onondaga giant may not have been in the hole from which he was excavated more than three hundred and twenty one days; and that he probably was placed in said hole between two days, and the Professor, moreover, thinks he can point out the quarry from which the giant was extracted. Should the Professor be proved to be correct in his calculations from his experiments—and doubtless he will be—the giant will hardly pay expenses for a trip down the Hudson. If the parties getting him up had put him in some old and not much visited Indian mound, and had planted some good sized trees over him, and had permitted them to grow undisturbed for a few years before unearthing him, they might have kept him going as long as the individuals in the secret could agree in the division of the profits of his resurrection. But in traveling between two days with such a cumbersome customer it was necessary, perhaps, to bury him in the first place convenient for the digging of a well.

FOREIGN NOTES

Signor Verdi, the composer, now in his fifty fifth year, has announced his intention of assigning annually, in equal portions, the 600 francs accruing to him every year as Cavalier of the Civil Order of Savoy, to two poor scholars, one a boy and the other a girl, who may have distinguished themselves by their good conduct at the school of Busseto.

A meeting of Roman Catholic gentlemen has just taken place at Friburg, Baden to reorganize the Knights of Malta. Eight gave their adhesion to the rules, which do not comprise the vows of celibacy or poverty, but only those of obedience. The new chevaliers, who have a Cardinal for their Grand Master, will wear a crimson uniform, with gold epaulettes and a Maltese cross on their breast.

A French chemist has invented a method of rendering the numbers of houses, and the names of shops as easily visible by night as by day. It consists in rubbing the figures and letters with a certain phosphoric paste, which, though not discernible in the daylight, will in the dark shine with perfect distinctness. The application would only need to be renewed once a month, and requires a very trifling outlay.

The proposed introduction of the system of short service in the Russian Army meets with much opposition from Russian writers. A M Solikoff says that "it would destroy the feeling that the soldier belonged to the army body and soul, that his home and religion we reconcentrated in one idea—the army. It is the unity and compactness which flow from the present system that made the troops an inexpugnable defence to the throne."

The Irish Times says that Archbishop French gave a visitation dinner to about fifty of the clergy of Kildare. There was, of course, the usual toast drinking. "The Queen," we are told, was received in "in solemn silence, and not more than one-third of the clergy present drank it." The Prince of Wales found quite as little favor while the Lord Lieutenant was absolutely hooted from his accustomed place in the list of "loyal and patriotic toasts."

Dr Carpenter has returned from his third trip in deep sea dredgings. Some new facts have been discovered which teach us that the bottom of the deep ocean is the home of many creatures who live there in the absence of light, under great pressure in water abounding in carbonic acid and in organic matter. Where the deep waters are warm highly organized beings of bright colors and well appointed eyes, are brought up by the dredge. At those great depths there is no vegetation, properly so called.

Among the subjects which will come up before the Committee of Foreign Affairs of the House of Representatives this session will be the memorial of C Hansen in relation to a ship canal from Brunsbuttel to the bay of Neustadt for the purpose of uniting the North and the Baltic seas by a direct and safe route. The work is under the authority of the government of Denmark and has been commenced. Mr Hansen is a naturalized American citizen, and is in hopes a request from the United States will secure him his rights from the Danish government.

One of the most singular members of the Œcumenical Council will be a Chinese Bishop who is at the same time a manufacturer of umbrellas. This is M Louis Faurie, Bishop of Kung Tcheu, a native of Bordeaux in France, but since nineteen years a resident of China. The Bishop wears a long mustache and goatee and from his crown dangles the queue of the celestials; he is dressed in Chinese costume. The Bishop has a large orphan asylum in his charge and in order to support it he has started an umbrella factory giving employment to a good many hands.

An important archæological discovery has been made in the village of Marceil (Pas de Calais) France. Some workmen, in digging the foundation for a house came upon a quantity of human bones and other remains. The results of the discovery so far have been 237 skeletons, ninety one earthen vases, five of glass, twenty three lances, nine javelins, eight hatchets, and a quantity of necklaces, ear-rings, beads &c. The site of this cemetery is near a camp called in the neighborhood after Cæsar, but which was still occupied in the fourth century. The skeletons are those of a race of men of tall stature some measuring six feet four inches.

FINANCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL ITEMS

Statistics show that the people of Vermont, a State almost exclusively devoted to agriculture, hold more money and other property per capita than the people of any other State in the Union. If this is so, it speaks volumes in favor of the proposition that farming, intelligently pursued, is profitable.

The report of the Commissioner of Customs just published says: The fines, penalties and forfeitures last year were over $400,000. About $1,100,000 of Custom receipts were smuggled, and the receipts are equal to $234,000,000 in our currency. The cost of collection has been 3 per cent currency.

The recuperative power of the South is beginning to astonish even those who had taken the most hopeful view of the subject. The present cotton crop alone is estimated to return a clear profit after payment of all expenses, of $10,000,000 in gold. It is difficult to realize the prosperity which must follow a few years of like production.

The North Carolina revenue returns in tobacco for the six months ending Oct 31 1869 show an increase over the corresponding period of last year of 500 per cent. The revenue collected from all sources in North and South Carolina for the current year is largely in excess of the amount collected in those States during the same period last year.

The London Economist, the highest financial authority in England, takes an encouraging view of American finances. In reviewing Secretary Boutwell's Philadelphia speech made just prior to our State election, the Economist says: Although the American 6 per cent. debt is yet quoted under par, it is very far from incredible that it may rise so fast as to give the hope of refunding it at no distant time at a much lower rate of interest. If things continue as they are for another six months and Mr Boutwell buys £10,000,000 more bonds it is hardly possible but that another great improvement in American credit will take place.

PERSONAL

A movement is to be set on foot in Edinburgh for the purpose of erecting a statue in that city to the memory of the late Rev Dr Chalmers.

The Canadians charge that Vincent Collyer carries coal to Newcastle when he bears annexation petitions from British Columbia to Washington.

Rev Horatio Stebbins, of San Francisco, has been selected by the proprietors of the Church of the Unity, in New York, as the successor of the Rev Mr Hepworth.

Senator Cole denies that he has urged his brother, General Cole, for the Secretaryship of the United States Senate or that he has thought of him in connection with that office.

A gentleman in Boston possesses an original portrait of Pope, by Richardson, purchased at the recent sale of the late Marquis of Hastings effects. It is said to be a fine work, and in excellent preservation.

Geo Peabody is the first philanthropist who has been honored with a niche in Westminster Abbey, this distinction having even been withheld from John Howard, though a marble statue of him was erected in St Paul's Cathedral.

The first person to see a fine portrait of General Lafayette, presented by a Newark lady for the New Jersey room at Mount Vernon, was the Marquise de Chamburn grand daughter of Lafayette, who happened to be visiting the tomb and home of Washington.

Peter Cartwright announces that his present appointment as Conference Missionary is without any support, and offers himself as a lecturer for such compensation as the people can give. He is eighty six years of age and has labored as a preacher for sixty five years.

The New York Herald observes with a great deal of cruelty that in the published list of the President's family connections that will take their Thanksgiving dinner with him in the White House we do not see the name of Corbin. He has probably been excused on account of his engagements with Fisk and Gould.

The Washington Star learns that Mr George Peabody named in his will, as executors of his estate Chas W Chandler of Zanesville, Ohio, Singleton Peabody of Rutland Vt, and George Peabody Russell, of Danvers Mass. The first named married a daughter of a deceased brother of Mr Peabody, the second is the son a brother now living in Ohio, and the third is the son of his sister, still living in Massachusetts.

A traveler's testimony is: "You can have no idea of the relief and comfort Burnett's Kalliston affords when one is suffering from exposure of the skin."

The Murder of Wydeen—Confession of Martin.—The Olympia Tribune contains the full confession of [illegible] Martin, one of the murderers of Israel Wydeen, [illegible] house above Monticello. The following are [illegible] portions of the confession condensed: Mar[illegible] Wilson and a boy named Isaac Foster were [illegible] Olympia this way. Wilson and Martin had agreed together to "go through" the first man they met, [illegible] had money enough to make it pay. [illegible] school house they met Wydeen. After [illegible] they left the boy to hold their horses, picked up a club about three feet long, went back and overtook [illegible]. Wilson made a pretense that he wanted to buy [illegible]. Wydeen had none. Wilson got around behind [illegible] while all three stood talking together and struck [illegible] the back of the head with his club. The blow did [illegible] knock him down. He started to run [illegible] school house near by, hallooing as he ran. Both [illegible] after him. Wydeen got into the school house. Wil[illegible] told Martin to stay at the door and watch and he [illegible] go in and "fix him," (Wydeen.) Wilson went [illegible] and Martin heard Wydeen say "don't murder me" [illegible] struck him in the back of his head with his club. [illegible] had time to say anything more. The man fell [illegible] Wilson kicked him in the ribs and struck him [illegible] on the head with the club. After both had [illegible] to see if anybody were coming, Wilson searched [illegible] pockets and found six hundred dollars in his [illegible] pocket, and two and a half in his left pocket [illegible] coin. Wilson said that was all the money [illegible]. Both of them then examined the man to see if [illegible] satisfied that he was, Wilson proposed to [illegible] out and throw him over the fence. They did [illegible]. Wilson then got over the fence and, while Martin [illegible] watch to see if anybody should be coming, dragged the body off into the bushes. When he came back he [illegible] buried it. The two men went back to the [illegible] to see if there was any blood there. They [illegible] some blood on the fence and some in the school [illegible] no attempt to conceal it, Wilson remark[illegible] nobody would notice it, as there was [illegible]. They agreed not to tell the boy. They then [illegible] to Monticello, stayed all night, sold the team to [illegible] and Wilson and Martin came on to Port[illegible] on board the steamer Wenat, on Monday, October [illegible], the day after the murder. They put up at the [illegible] that night and the next [illegible] at the [illegible] Hotel. This night Wilson slept [illegible]. Martin stayed three days in [illegible]. Wilson then told him he had spent all the [illegible] divided and that Martin had bet[illegible], which he did. On the way, he [illegible] Smith and Charley Burch, with whom [illegible] into and robbed Devoe's store, beyond Drew's [illegible]. All three were arrested next day and committed [illegible]. Martin says that he and James Wilson were [illegible] in the murder of Wydeen. The [illegible] is sworn to before a justice of the peace.

Oro Fino Theatre.—Owing to the very rough storm prevailing last night the attendance at Mrs Bird's benefit was much smaller than we had hoped to see. Mrs Carter was [illegible] to appear. Nevertheless the plays were very well rendered and the performance generally satisfactory. To night will be represented Shakespeare's great tragedy of Othello—Mr J W Carter as Othello and Miss Nellie Cummings as Desdemona.

A Menagerie to be Sold.—The Wolly Calf, black bear, Kentucky squirrels, prairie dogs, monkeys, etc., formerly belonging to Avery's great American show, will be sold at auction at 10 A M to day by Mr A B Richardson. Mr R says Look out for eloquence to day. Wonder what Mr Richardson will be at next. Any thing from a farm to a monkey or a ship's cargo to a prairie dog—everything goes.

Dangerously Ill.—We learn that Mr Fred Muller, well known in this city and a member of one of the Odd Fellows lodges, is lying dangerously ill at the house of Mr Wm Wetsell. It is rare that the family have any assistance in taking care of him, and they are quite worn out. Would it not be well for some of the Odd Fellows to exemplify their professions by looking after their sick brother.

River News.—From Col West, Wells Fargo & Co's messenger by the Ajax, we learn that the Montana was lying at the dock at Astoria yesterday morning. The Ajax met her at Sand Island; the bar was too rough to go out and she came back to Astoria.

The steam tug Astoria had the bark Almatia in tow off Astoria for Portland.

A Portlander Married in Montana.—We learn from the Virginia City (Montana) Times that on the 25th November W W Chapman Jr, formerly of this city, and son of Col W W Chapman, was married to Miss Anna Rodgers, daughter of Capt Rodgers, Auditor of the Territory. According to the description given in the Times it was a gay affair.

Oregon Patents.—Among the patents issued November 23d was one to A M Harding of Oregon City, for a Turbine water wheel. On the 16th a patent for a harvester and thresher was issued to W H and Levi T Davis, assignors to D McCreary and J B Davis, McMinnville, Yamhill county.

Benefit to a Fire Company.—We learn that Mr Carter, Manager of the company playing at Oro Fino Theater, has tendered a benefit to Willamette Engine Co No 1, and that the company having accepted the benefit will come off some time next week.

County Commissioners Court.—The County Commissioners met yesterday afternoon pursuant to adjournment, spent the afternoon in examining and auditing bills, and adjourned to meet at one o'clock this afternoon.

Proceeds of the M E Fair.—At the annual fair and festival by the ladies of the M E Church, held at the Washington Guard's Armory Wednesday evening, the total receipts were four hundred dollars.

Pebble Spectacles are made of solid crystals and are much more perfect and clear than glass can be made; besides, they are so hard they cannot be scratched or defaced. They are much better for the eye than common glass. Go to B L Stone's and try them.

Styles!—Looking over Meussdorffer's stock in Boys and Men's Hats yesterday we noticed that he has a very large assortment of the former—all the latest styles, which would make excellent Christmas presents.

Prof Maximilian's entertainments on Monday and Tuesday evenings were very entertaining and elicited great applause. He will give one more exhibition in this city Saturday night at Harmony Hall, next door to the Postoffice. Prof Maximilian takes pleasure in announcing that he has engaged the services of Marks Richard as business manager and treasurer. Admission fifty cents.

The subjoined correspondence sufficiently explains itself:

Portland, Oregon Nov 15 1869

Messrs Everson & Haines, General Agents New England Mutual Life Insurance Company Boston

Gentlemen—On my own behalf and in the name of my orphan children I beg to thank you, and through you the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company of Boston, for its munificence in paying me my terminated policy on the life of my husband. On the 21st January 1869, misfortune compelled me to forego the payment of the last premium—which non payment in any other company would have lost me my policy—but I am now overjoyed with the receipt of the amount of the policy (less the amount of the unpaid premium only), thanks to the equity of the Massachusetts Lapse Laws, that must bless many widows and their children. I recommend the New England Mutual to all who would provide against possible misfortune. I sincerely thank you again gentlemen, for the payment, and also for your generous and gentlemanly assistance in the matter.

Respectfully, BETSEY MILLER

Portland, Oregon Nov 15 1869

Messrs Everson & Haines, General Agents of the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company of Boston

Gentlemen—Having taken a lively interest in the affairs of the large and destitute family, left by an old resident of this city, who died Aug 2, 1869, and who was insured in the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company, we take pleasure in making the following statement for the information of the public.

A E C. Miller was insured by ordinary Life Policy No 13,054, bearing date January 21, 1863. He paid annual payments to January 21, 1868, inclusive. Since then nothing has been paid. He died August 2 1869, over eighteen months after last payment of premium, yet your company, working under the Equitable Lapse Laws of Massachusetts, pays the widow and orphans the whole policy, deducting only the premium due, while in all other companies doing business here, about which we know anything, the policy would long since have been forfeited.

By the New England Mutual, the widow has been paid $4,650 50. This we consider munificent, more especially when we take into consideration that the family would not have received a cent from any other company doing business on this coast. This in our estimation is enough to recommend this company above all others. This is Equity, this is Mutuality. We, therefore, commend this company to the public as the only company that has no forfeitures.

We herewith inclose you the acknowledgments of the widow.

Respectfully yours, etc

Please accept our thanks for the voluntary justice you have done the company we represent.

Words of Weight for Wives and Mothers

The superiority of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS over all other tonics and correctives as a remedy for dyspepsia, biliousness, nervous affections, and all complaints of the visceral organs, and as a preventive of malarious fevers, is proverbial, but perhaps it is not so generally known that the ingredients of this famous vegetable invigorant and alterative exercise a powerful and most beneficial influence in that numerous and distressing class of ailments of which so many thousands of delicate women are the patient but uncomplaining victims. The special troubles of the sex, commencing with the dawn of womanhood, and extending over a period of thirty to thirty five years, are as readily and certainly relieved by the operations of this admirable vegetable preparation as any of the complaints common to both sexes for which it is recommended as a specific. The attention of mothers is invited to its balsamic effect in those peculiar cases of functional irregularity and irritation which, when neglected or maltreated, destroy the health and shorten the lives of so many invalids. There is no need for the powerful and dangerous drugs too often resorted to in such cases. The mild tonic and restorative action of the BITTERS is all the assistance that nature requires in its struggle to overcome the difficulty, and a vast amount of suffering will be spared to the sex if they placed implicit faith in this wholesome vegetable invigorant, corrective and nervine, and discarded the pernicious nostrums advertised by ignorant and mercenary charlatans.

THE PEOPLE SAY

That Pratt's Abolition Oil is the best remedy in the world for the complete and speedy cure of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Lame Back, Gout, Chilblains, Sprains, Bruises, Stiff and Swollen Joints, Contracted Cords and Muscles, Pains in the Breast and Sides, Nervous Headache, Toothache, Earache, Sore Throat, Colic, Cramps, Cholera Morbus, Diarrhoea, and all internal and external aches and pains. THE BLOOD AND LIVER

It stimulates the Liver and Kidneys to healthy action, regulates the Bowels, cures Piles and Dyspepsia. Persons subject to Billious attacks, and those suffering from the effects of Fever and Ague, or any injudicious use of Quinine and Mercury will find Pratt's New Life invaluable. Price $1 00.

FOR THE BEST AND MOST PERMANENT SUBscription book published,

"OUR HOME PHYSICIAN,"

By GEORGE M BEARD, A M, M D, of the University of New York. It contains over 1 000 pages, fully illustrated. Most Family Medical books heretofore written are incomplete and unreliable, or their treatment out of date. This is an entirely new work, based upon latest and best authorities, and on careful professional experience. It excels in fullness, candor, thoroughness and adaptability for general use. Over three years have been devoted to its careful preparation. Quackery, humbuggery and old fogy dogmas exposed. It is highly endorsed by leading members of the Medical profession wherever introduced.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

WEEKLY REVIEW

PORTLAND, Dec 10 1869

[illegible] New York [illegible] in this market on Monday and Tuesday [illegible] was still up.

In all material [illegible] the money market remains unchanged. Loans at the bank are one per cent on good security, [illegible] rates one and a half per cent. [illegible] difficulty is now experienced in collections [illegible] growing in personal security, and the market may be [illegible].

The produce market has no new aspect except that the supplies of grain, bacon, fruit, etc. [illegible] are becoming augmented by receipts from the interior. Hitherto, vessels up for produce cargoes have been obliged to wait from four to six weeks to fill up. But the supplies are now probably large enough to enable all the vessels coming here to load up and sail without delay. This fact alone without improvement in prices will help the market quite materially. [illegible] our last report the [illegible] is the only vessel which has sailed with a produce cargo. She took about 500 tons—mostly flour [illegible]. Flour maintains the former prices. Oregon is selling in San Francisco at the highest market figures. Bacon is still tending down; we quote hams and sides jobbing at 16c; shoulders at 8c. Buying prices are, bacon and hams 14c; shoulders [illegible]. Lard is also lower—in tins 12½c and in kegs 11c. These are about the only material changes in the market since our last report.

The merchandise market has kept well up considering the advanced season. In dry goods during the week jobbers have done a very fair business; quotations of all staples unchanged. Groceries have been moderately active, though within the last day or two there is a perceptible slacking off in orders. In hardware lines we find nothing new to note, except that nails have weakened a little and will be quoted lower by next week. The most active branch of trade is now in fancy goods in view of the near approach of the holidays. Dealers in these lines have unusually full stocks and wide assortments.

From various points in the mining regions east of us we have accounts of heavy rains and early snows in the mountains, and every indication of a more favorable mining season next spring than has been known for several years. If such hopes shall be realized we may look for an improvement in the next years business of this city, as we shall get larger supplies of dust and will sell larger quantities of goods.

Real estate transactions continue lively. During two days of this week—Tuesday and Wednesday—the aggregate consideration paid for lots changing hands in this city amounted to over $14,000. During the entire week the amount is probably double that sum.

The barkentine J. Heaton, of the Pioneer Line, being considered too small to profitably grain carriage abroad, has been sent to Oak Point to load with lumber for Buenos Ayres, South America. The brig [illegible], to sail to day, will carry a produce cargo to San Francisco.

The following are the latest telegraphic quotations from San Francisco, New York and Liverpool: San Francisco—Flour—Oregon extra, $5 50; Imperial extra, $5 50. Wheat—market firm at $1 50@1 55 for shipping, strictly choice, $1 57½@1 60. Barley 90c@1 12½. Oats $1 35@1 45. New York—Flour and wheat unchanged. Liverpool—wheat 9s 11d.

Commercial exchanges from New York, report that during the latter part of November large shipments were made of canned goods, corn, lobsters, peaches, oysters etc., to the Pacific coast; but that the supply at home was much reduced, in fact, nearly exhausted, and that prices were going up. This was particularly true of Baltimore oysters.

INSTRUCTIONS TO BIDDERS AND POSTMASTERS;

Containing also conditions to be incorporated in the contracts to the extent the Department may deem proper

1 Seven minutes are allowed to each intermediate office when not otherwise specified for assorting the mails but on railroad and steamboat routes there is to be no more delay than is sufficient for an exchange of the mail pouches

2 On railroad and steamboat lines and other routes where the mode of conveyance admits of it, the special agents of the Post Office Department, also post office blanks, mail bags, locks and keys, are to be conveyed without extra charge

3 On railroad and steamboat lines the route agents of the Department, also the British and Canada mails when offered and the agents accompanying them, are conveyed without charge, and for the use of the United States agents a commodious car or part of a car properly lighted warmed, and furnished and adapted to the convenient separation and due security of the mails, is to be provided by the contractor, under the direction of the Department

Railroad and steamboat companies are required to take the mail from and deliver it into the post offices at the beginning and end of their routes and to and from all offices not more than eighty rods from a station or landing. Proposals may be submitted by the companies for the performance of all their side service that is for offices over eighty rods from a station or landing

There will be "way bills" prepared by postmasters, or other agents of the Department, to accompany the mails conveyed on railroads and steamers, specifying the number and destination of the several bags. On other principal routes, likewise receipts will be required and way bills forwarded the latter to be examined by the several postmasters, to insure regularity in the delivery of mails

4 No pay will be made for trips not performed and for each of such omissions, not satisfactorily explained, three times the pay of the trip will be deducted. For arrivals so far behind time as to break connection with depending mails and not sufficiently excused one fourth of the compensation for the trip is subject to forfeiture. For repeated delinquencies of the kind herein specified, enlarged penalties proportioned to the nature thereof, and the importance of the mail may be made

5 For leaving behind or throwing off the mails or any portion of them for the admission of passengers or for being concerned in setting up or running an express conveying intelligence in advance of the mail, a quarter's pay may be deducted
